

Apology to Ronald Suresh Roberts

LAST week in "Unlikeable Mr Roberts loses pal", we suggested that Ronald Suresh Roberts and Anthony Brink were two controversial peas in the Aids denialism pod. Following a complaint to the Press Ombudsman, we accept that Roberts is not an Aids denialist and that he never was. We acknowledge that we recently apologised to Roberts following a similar complaint. We are tightening up our internal systems to make sure that such errors do not occur again. We apologise to Roberts for compounding the error by repeating it and for any damage caused.
